

Residential Plan Submittal Requirements 2012 IECC

Residential Construction plans for 2012 IECC shall have the following information on them. A list of all the Mandatory Requirements of the IECC plus which method of Compliance Path will be taken. The Prescriptive Path with the Prescriptive R-Values; or Prescriptive U- Values; or Prescriptive UA Alternative or the Performance Option Requirements (compliance documentation must be submitted).

Sunroom Additions: In order to receive credit as a thermal isolation space, plans must be submitted showing the floor plan with part of the existing dwelling exterior wall. The plans must note that the existing thermal envelope doors are to remain. If the doors are to be removed, there needs to be a statement on the plans (existing doors removed) and the insulation requirements of the sunroom addition shall meet the Energy Code requirements.
