*New Cultural Center (NCC) and Artists Flats First Mixed-Use Affordable Housing Development in Columbia

The Coalition is hosting this virtual public meeting for Coalition supporters and community members interested in learning about the current plans for and status of legislation that will release County funding for the construction of this new culture and arts center.

The NCC project is the linchpin for developing Artists Flats, the first Downtown Columbia Partnership affordable housing community that will include 87 affordable rental units. NCC will provide a new home for the nonprofit Columbia Center for Theatrical Arts (CCTA), including Toby's dinner theater, arts programming by the Department of Recreation and Parks, display space for the Howard County Center for the Arts and event space rentals.

Attendees will have the opportunity to ask questions of project principals—the County Administration, Howard County Housing Commission and the Columbia Downtown Housing Corporation.

Join us and invite your neighbors and colleagues to this public information session.
